DEDICATION

BURVIL GLENN

● We, the staff of 1936 respectfully dedicate this Annual to Mr. Burvil Glenn, because of his fine achievements in the art department of the Piqua schools. His success is due greatly to his originality and ability in art. We recognize the faithful work he has done with the staff for the Piquonian. He has made worthwhile suggestions and has spent hours in our behalf. Due largely to his efforts we have been able to publish a Piquonian of a high standard.

FOREWORD

● We, the staff, have selected Radio as the theme for the Annual of 1936.

Radio was chosen as being a fitting branch of Modern Education, the theme we have used throughout the year. It is one of the greatest factors in educating the world to-day, and will undoubtedly become even more influential in the future.

May the Radio be symbolic of the larger world to us, the graduates of 1936, as we leave Piqua High School.

● THE

CENTRAL ● HIGH ● SCHOOL

● Our Central . . . home of our high school days . . . center of the activities of our youth . . . Alma Mater we have loved . . . and shall remember with loyal appreciation.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY ● ●

● "Enter the Prodigal" by Richard Flounoy was the three-act play presented by the junior class under the capable direction of Miss Georgianna Reiland on the evening of April 3 in the high school auditorium.

The cast for the play was as follows:

Mr. Walters—the father	Don Marks
Mrs. Walters—the mother	Roberta Campbell
Ernest Walters—the oldest son	Dorrell Polhamus
William Walters—the Prodigal	Bruce Geiger
Mary Walters—the sister	Mary R. Upton
Berry Reid—in love with William	Mae Stacy
Mrs. Haley—a neighbor	Dorothy White
Mr. Wells—Ernest's employer	Charles Long

The financial success of the play was due largely to the splendid efforts of the ticket and publicity committees, appointed by Dick Dunkle, class president. Members of these committees were Ollie Boyer, William Cummins, John Boylan, Jack Schwab, Jean Decker, Helen Nichols, Ruth Speelman, Jeannette Hill, Ruth Sexton, Paul Stahr, and Alan Mickler.

Other committees who contributed to the success of the production were: program committee, Amy Statler, Betty Petrie, Robert Bixler, and Lester Vetter; stage managers, Robert Grosvenor, Chester Latham, James Miller, and Robert Ransom; and property managers, Chester Latham, James Stone, and Kenneth Thompson.

—Mary Upton.

● ● PROPHECY

● Good evening, ladies and gentlemen! Tonight, April 28, 1950, we bring to you for the first time in the history of radio a worldwide television transmission. Tonight our vast audience will view an actual broadcast while they are at home in their easy chairs.

May I say that Hemm and Hemm, makers of better Hemm automobiles, make possible this epic and history-making broadcast of the "heard through the transom" reporter from the beautifully decorated red and blue studio, which you can see, of W8LOF, 50,000 kilowatts transmitter of the Hildebrand Radio Corporation of America.

To start with, let me do a bit of advertising for the next World's Fair. Mayor Cathcart of Podunkia, a metropolis which boasts some three hundred and forty inhabitants, says that his "city" is to be the scene of the "Decade of Invention." Mayor Cathcart has already booked Sir J. Ronald Marshall's famed symphony orchestra to furnish music throughout the full two weeks. One of the finest double-quartets of feminine voices also has been secured. It includes Dorothea Bertling, Loretta Cornelius, sopranos; Charlyne Counts, Lucille Cruse, altos; Verda Stelzner, Catherine Davis, baritones; Marie Schmidlapp, Betty Pepper, bases. Their last concert before the Queen of Siam was a decided success.

Harold Hetzler, outfielder hold-out of the St. Louis Cards, says that unless Manager Lowell Brown comes across with a $75,000 contract, he'll take up Tiddle de Winks, at which he is very adept.

Helen Finfrock was slightly injured at the corner of Fifth and Park Avenues in New York City when a taxicab driven by Duaine Blackburn failed to stop for a traffic signal. She was immediately rushed to the Dorothy Recker Memorial Hospital in a Konz ambulance. Her physician, Dr. Franklin Pitsenbarger, reports her condition as favorable.

Flash! Ray Millbourn middle-aisled it last Tuesday. Incidentally, Louis Butz, the best man, was so nervous that he lost the ring and handed over a cuff-link instead. Rev. William D. Schmidlapp tied the knot.

Speaking of marriages, Myrtle Thayer, whose mouthpiece is Fred White, is establishing a trust fund for all couples who will admit that the wife did the asking.

William Hill is in Europe studying Pansyology while Jule Tafel, ichthyologist, is studying the various ways of preparing canned whale meat.

Rip-snortin' Dick Buckel is favored to win the 500-mile grind at Indianapolis next week. Lloyd DeWeese, the seven-day bicycle champion, is nearing the seventh day in a championship match in which his crown is at stake. He's safe, however, for he has a two-day lead. In Kentucky, Richard Booher's "Woman of Peace" is this year's derby favorite.

Betty Kiser, who will very likely be the Women Voters' League candidate for president this year, and Jack Dickson, who has recently come into prominence as the only man to be president of the Tall Story League for more than ten years, were recently the guests of honor at the tenth anniversary of the Slover Chicken Farms. John Blakely, United States Ambassador at large, and Eugene Creager, Head Art Instructor at Yale, were also present.

Congressman James Lane and Congresswoman Rosella Short are continuing the senate investigation into the affairs of Wilma Henry, the Columbus railroad magnate.

Helen Bushnell, Margaret Motter, and Beatrice Barrett, lobbyists, containly find themselves in hot water tonight. If the House continues its investigations, they will be the next ones to be examined.

Omer Patterson, G-man, is credited with frustrating an attempt to hold up the Margaret Bailey Grain Elevator at Mt. Jefferson, last Monday night.

Harold Applegett as "Private Doze" has an entertaining amateur hour every Friday from nine to ten. By the way, Robert Ankerman is making a pass at offering competition to this program by imitating O. O. Rogers.

Elwood Penrod and his Berry Pickers are playing at the Club Ebbing this week. Penny is featuring the currently popular blues singer, Betty Cromer. Incidentally, Frances Fritsch composes all of Miss Cromer's songs.

Charles Shawler, governor of Arizona, is suing the popular crooner, Lawrence Lange, for alienation of his secretary's affections. His secretary, who was formerly Virginia Clark, won't say much about the affair.

Chester Johnson has perfected a new kind of fertilizer that will cause one acre of even the poorest ground to produce ten times as much as an acre of the best ground, if used under the right conditions.

In answer to a number of inquiries---Betty DeWeese writes advice to the love-lorn in Johnny Grosvenor's New York Multiply; Dorothy Schuesselin is the door-knob correspondent for the same paper; Melvin Peck takes the part of the canine character in Bayman's Barky-Sparky Dog Biscuit program; Virginia Lindauer is the daring aviatrix who just completed a round-the-world flight.

Jim Rees is completing a made-to-order rocket ship that Pat Mullendore can use on his trip to the moon to study the practicability of using the moon's rays for air conditioning houses.

Tom Mote, well-known sports commentator, has just informed us that Sam Ballinger, fleet-footed track star, has been chosen to represent the United States in the Olympics next August. He also reports that Margaret Wilson, who is Eldean Ashcraft's trainer-manager, is telling that Eldean won't be in condition to swim in the Olympics. It may be a rumor, we'll check it.

Betty Luckey, president of the local Beauty Operators' Union called a general strike today. Protests immediately arose from Patricia Miller and Mary Lyman, but subsided when Rosemary Ellerman, treasurer of the local clan, threatened to oust them from the union.

In the cast of the opera "Carmen", which has been playing on Times Square, are Guillaume Cromeriske (Bill Cromer to you), and Helen Dunn, Robert Yenney, and Janis Purdee. Gladys Kastner has designed all the scenery for this opera; Allan Van de Wege is responsible for the beautiful costumes used, especially those of the chorus girls.

Catherine Fuller's new historical novel "Love on the W. P. A." has just been published. Critics of great renown such as Florence Snyder, Lois Rayner, and even Don Yenney, proclaim this to be the best novel they have ever read.

Jeanette Smith is vying with Eleanor Avy for the leading part in "The History of Shirley Temple."

Orpah Clark and Adrain Fogt present a joint concert at Music Hall every afternoon at four. Remember the time, all you music lovers! Critics say that Adrain has reached the acme of perfection on his violin, while Orpah has perfected the art of playing two pianos simultaneously, a difficult feat indeed!

Louis Zimmerlin is the chief mattress tester in the DeNise Downy Mattress Corporation, which makes the millionaire's mattress at the pauper's price; but we must save the advertising for their program.

Ellen Taylor and John Foston are booked by the various night clubs in the country for the next five years. Their dancing is synonymous with grace.

Wilma Thomas (it is rumored) is flat broke. Upon the advice of Minta Ann Haney and even Jean Culpepper, she undertook to buy out a corner of wheat. When the market crashed, she still had the wheat!

Agnes Godsey, authority on sponge cake, was appointed an assistant to Kathryn Kiefer, who is chief cook and bottle washer at the White House these days.

Mme. Maria Elizabeth Dawson presented one hundred little kiddies in her fifth annual piano recital, last Tuesday. Intimate friends reveal that she is wearing a new sparkler, just another for her collection, we guess.

Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts leave New York City today for Egypt. Mr. Roberts, you recall, is the successful proprietor of the "Better Stone Quarry." On the same boat will be Miriam Jopkins (Jones to us) who has just finished "Melody Hill."

It appears that two Hilbert prizes must be given for the outstanding poetry of the year since the critics disagree. Helen Snow's "Rubaiyat of Russian Rubes" and Alberta Stafford's "Love in Ernst", are being considered as probable winners.

At this time we wish to call your attention to the new program featuring Martin Miller and his trombone, which is sponsored by Swarts, Tipton and Swarts False Teeth Powder. This is another link in the advertising campaign being carried on by Jeanette Hicks for "The Smile of Youth."

One of the latest hits on Broadway is "Apples for Adam" starring Fred Lange in the role of Adam. This production is being presented by Alice Ellerman, the "Queen of Directoresses."

Margaret Gravett has recently been selected Dean of Women at Julien Charm School at Quicktown. Miss Gravett hopes to stimulate in the hearts of her girls an appreciation for graciousness, gracefulness, and a well-modulated feminine voice.

Nancy Ashton will resign her position as the efficient teacher of the "School of Ether Waves in August". She tells us her future is undecided.

From the Elbert Elite Shop in London, comes the following style report: Sadie Farmer Sun-bonnets sales have hit a new high mark since first modeled by Pauline Coblentz.

Lloyd Smith, noted authority and translator of footnotes, is in India for a rest cure.

● ● HISTORY

● "This is station P. H. S. presenting 'Hot Dates in History'. Tonight our program is a little unusual. Instead of presenting a dramatization as we always have done before, we shall present our narrator, who will talk on a subject which should be of interest to all high school students. May I present Mr. H. S. Alumni."

"Good-evening, boys and girls. I am going to open my talk this evening by speaking first of the Mississippi river. Have you ever noticed, on a map, how many little rivers feed into the Mississippi and merge together into an immense body to flow to an outlet in the Gulf of Mexico? If you have noticed this, have you ever thought how like it a group of students is, coming into high school from junior highs and township schools to merge together and move along through four years of school work to an outlet in graduation? That has always been my impression of a group of students.

"I remember very clearly when I first became a part of that moving stream. It was in a city called Piqua on a bright September morning in 1932. All of us were very green and inexperienced; consequently our first year proved to be a very trying one. But, after much toil and hard labor, we were promoted to the sophomore class. In one short year we had learned to appreciate the many opportunities open to us in the various school activities, and to be proud of our football and basketball squads, as well as our band.

"Already we were looking forward to our next year, and the following September when we did come back to take up our duties once more, how intelligent we thought we were. We looked down with a superior smile upon the little freshmen coming in for the first time and thought how stupid they were. Was it possible that anyone could look so bewildered over a little matter of some thirty-eight rooms? We were sure we hadn't!

"However, we soon came down from our mighty pedestal when we ran up against such dreadful foes as Latin, English, and Geometry. Most of us thought we should never survive, and how we bemoaned the fact that we were in high school. But imagine our surprise when in June we received a card that said 11B. Why, one half of our journey was already completed! Before we knew it we were ready to start on the third lap.

"By now we knew the school routine by heart, and so we turned our attention to the football banquet, the annual band concert, and the crowning event of the junior year---the class play. All of us enjoyed that very much, but we enjoyed more the dance which it enabled us to give the seniors. We had such a good time at that, and how glad we were that we were juniors and could participate in it! Why, even before it was over we were thinking of next year, when we could be the guests.

"Our last year of school still bears the most pleasant memories of all. We finally had reached the peak toward which we had been striving so long. We were now the mighty seniors whom we had envied for so many years. But being seniors didn't mean that we were sure to graduate. Our schedules were heavy and difficult and we had to keep on hammering away until the final week. Now don't get the impression that it was all work and no reward, for it was the privilege of some of us to grace the Piquonian Staff, and to have places in the National Honor Society and the Quill and Scroll. By Christmas time our jewelry arrived. How proud of it we were, showing it to all our friends.

"Things certainly went quickly, however, after the mid-year examinations. Our senior essays were coming due, the band boys were busy drilling for the Band Festival, and the casts for the operetta and play were busy practicing their respective parts. Before we were fully aware of the fact our Baccalaureate service was over and we were preparing for Commencement exercises. We were moving rapidly from the great river of our high school career into the larger gulf of the world. What lay before us was unknown, but the experience we had obtained while moving down the stream gave us courage to meet the future."

ALUMNI NOTES

● Piqua Central has had many graduates who have become successful in various lines of work. These could well speak as the "Voice of Experience" and tell of very interesting happenings in their lives.

Roger Emmert, 1911, of Dayton, Ohio, is an outstanding electrical engineer. Another who is well known in engineering is Lee Warren, 1905. He has worked on a number of large constructions.

Miriam Urban, 1905, is an instructor in the Department of History at the University of Cincinnati, and an author and lecturer as well. She recently addressed the Fortnightly Club of this city on the topic "Present Conditions In Germany."

Kirk O'Ferrall, 1906, is the Dean of the Episcopal Cathedral at Detroit, Michigan; while Dr. Lynn B. Mitchell, 1899, is an instructor at the University of Iowa at Ames, Iowa.

Dr. Clifton J. Brown, who spoke to the students of Central at an assembly during this year, has held a great many important positions. He is a past president of the State Normal School at St. Cloud, Minnesota, as well as the author of a great many text books, one of which has been used in the Piqua schools. He is now the Superintendent of Schools at Pelham, New York.

L. M. Flesh, a prominent business man of Piqua, was graduated in the class of 1880. He has greatly benefited the city of Piqua by his gift of the Flesh Public Library. Also, he has been very kind in allowing people to see his collection of paintings and jeweled snuff boxes, which are among the finest in collections in this country.

Dr. Warren Breidenbach, of the class of 1911, has specialized in the study of tuberculosis and is a well-known physician of Dayton, Ohio.

These are only a few of the Piqua Central high school graduates who have become outstanding in their fields of work. May the class of 1936 be as successful in their work as those who have gone before them.

—Helen Dunn.

● ● FOOTBALL

● Central had a very successful 1935 football season, with one defeat, ten victories, and one tie. The start of the season was a 44 to 6 victory when Bradford met the Indians on the home field. Success stayed with the team through the next six games, one score reaching the height of 41 to the opponents' 0.

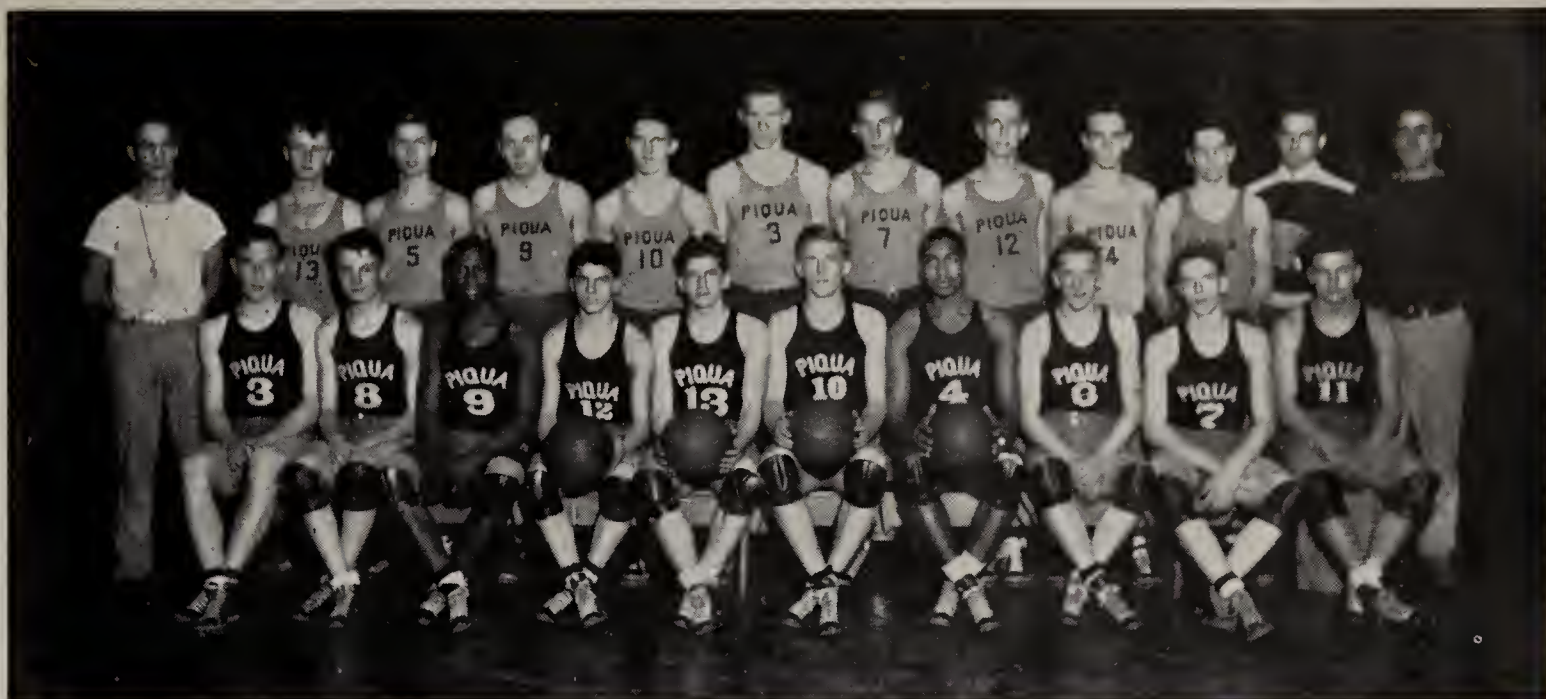

Miamisburg, which for so many years has proved a leader of the teams in the Miami Valley, defeated us in a very hard-fought game. The Urbana game, next, was a fine game which Central won 18 to 6.

When Turkey Day came and the crowds turned out for the Troy tilt, they saw two very evenly matched teams fight a 0—0 game.

The season's record follows:

Bradford.....	6.....	Piqua.....	44

BASKETBALL ● ●

● The Indians ended their season in a second place tie with Miamisburg in the Miami Valley league. The most outstanding victory of the year was that over Troy, Miami Valley League champions, by the one-sided score of 47—24.

The Indians played all their home games in the new field house at Roosevelt Park. The largest crowd of the season, nearly 1200 fans, attended the Troy-Piqua game.

Another outstanding game of the season was the Waterloo-Piqua game in which the Indians gave the Wonders a stiff battle, finally losing 27—16.

The Indians were defeated in their first game in the district tournament, by Wilmington, 28—24.

Players who received letters at the end of the season were: Marvin Smith, honorary captain, Eugene Creager, Gordon Beck, Bill Beachler, Holman Sawyer, Paul Stahr, Kenneth Smith Dick Johnson, and John Blakely, manager.

These boys were coached by D. P. "Curly" Walton, a former Miami University star athlete and coach at Oxford Stewart.

● ● TRACK

● Under the efficient leadership of Mr. Mote, physical education director, practice for track began this year about March 1.

In April, Piqua entered a triangle meet with Troy and Sidney and emerged victorious. Due to the fact that the Miamisburg field was not ready for it, the Miami Valley League meet, which originally had been scheduled for Miamisburg, was held in Piqua at Roosevelt Park, May 1. Rain forced officials to cancel some of the events, but in those completed Piqua placed fourth among six entries.

May 8, Coach Mote entered Julius Lisk, Bill Recker, Holman Sawyer, and John Foston in an invitational meet at Miami University, which included Class A and Class B schools from Kentucky and Ohio. About 600 boys took part in the meet. Central can be proud of her entrants, for Sawyer placed fourth in the discus and shot put and tied for fifth in the high jump, while Foston tied for second in the pole vault.

In a meet held with Troy on May 21 at Roosevelt Park, Troy scored 57 to Piqua's 52 points. However, two events were held over until the next day, and proved unusually exciting because it was necessary for Piqua to win both in order to change her standing and finish the meet as winner. The Piqua boys took first place in the mile relay, but not until they had come in first in the 880 after a very close race was the meet won. This victory gave Central three points toward the Piqua Daily Call and Troy News athletic trophy, and brought the two schools to a tie, each having 18 points.

CROSS COUNTRY ●

● Due to injuries and ineligibilities a most unfortunate season resulted in cross country. All three meets, Greenville, Roosevelt, and Springfield, resulted in defeats for the squad.

Two boys, Dick Recker and Julius Lisk, were able to compete in the district cross country meet at Springfield, where they won silver medals for finishing twelfth and nineteenth respectively.

—Chester Johnston.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Reeder, Johnson, Lisk, Recker, Polhamus, Latham, Clay.

GOLF TEAM

Gigandet, Stahr, Mr. Richardson, Shipley, York.

TENNIS

Long, Schmidlapp, Decker, Mullendore, Mr. Cromwell, Simpkinson, White, DeWeese.

TENNIS ● ●

● For the first time in many years Piqua High had an individual coach for tennis, Mr. Cromwell, teacher at Bennett Junior High.

Before weather permitted outside practice, Mr. Cromwell had the boys practice every day in the gym. Then as weather became better, the boys practiced first at the Y. M. C. A. courts in Rossville, and after May 1 at the Acton Hall courts in Shawnee.

Piqua acted as host to the Miami Valley schools which played their annual tournament May 9 on the Acton Hall courts. The championships of this tournament went to Sidney and Piqua; Laughlin of Sidney taking the singles and DeWeese and White of Piqua the doubles.

● ● GOLF

● Central's golf team, under the supervision of Mr. Richardson, Spanish instructor, was composed entirely of juniors. The boys were York, Stahr, Shipley, and Marshall. This year's experience will be an asset to them next spring when they again will represent Piqua.

Piqua placed third in the Miami Valley League, the other schools placing as follows:

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

● Interclass tournaments for girls began in the early part of December with basketball. This was followed in turn by deckball and baseball.

Approximately 12 teams competed in basketball, the winning team being selected by the process of elimination. All games were played after school in the Central gymnasium. The senior class team, captained by Margaret Wilson, won the championship after hard competition from the underclassmen.

The fifth period gym class, under captain Helen Byrd, won the deckball championship. They were winners by a large number of points, although at first the scores between classes were fairly equal.

More girls showed an interest in baseball this year than in former years. The games were played indoors, a kick pin ball being used. The seventh period class team won the championship. Clara Belle Clark captained the winning team.

The coach for all these sports was Miss Nelle Fogle, physical education director for girls.

Row 1: Martin Miller, Augustus Thornberry,
Elwood Penrod, Gordon Beck,
Augustus Mason, Ray Milbourne.

Row 2: Harold Hetzler, John Blakely,

Coach Wertz.

● ● BASEBALL

● The newly organized baseball team under the coaching of Mr. Walton and Mr. Wertz successfully opened the season at Lena-Conover.

About 30 boys reported for the first game. During the following weeks the squad was cut down to 15. Sixteen games were played including two tournaments held in Dayton.

The boys showed much interest in baseball; it is hoped that next year will be a more successful year than this one. However, the boys did very well considering the fact that Central had not had a baseball team for a number of years.

Boys who played on the team were Elwood Penrod, pitcher; Harold Applegett, first base; Kenneth Smith, second base; Augustus Mason, short stop; John Blakely and Warren Cooper, third base; Augustus Thornberry, Wilbur McMaken, Harold Hetzler, Franklin Pitsenbarger, and Lloyd Smith, outfielders; and Gordon Beck, catcher.

The schedule for 1936 was as follows:

April 11 at Lena-Conover
April 17 at Fort Loramie
April 22 at St. Paris
April 24 at Greenville
April 25 at Versailles
April 29 Lena-Conover

May 2 Miami Valley Tourney at Dayton
May 4 Fort Loramie
May 6 Greenville
May 8 Versailles
May 13 St. Paris
May 15-16 District Meet at Dayton
May 29-30 State Meet

—Sir Edward Elgar

THE BAND ● ●

● The Piqua High School Band, an important organization in our city and school, has just finished one of the most successful years of its history.

The Band, besides playing for all the football games, played a prominent part in the initiation of the new field house. They appeared at all home basketball games in uniform and often had novelty stunts for the entertainment of the crowd. Also, the Band was invited to represent John Carrol University at the Miami-Carrol football game at Oxford, Ohio.

The boys participated in the annual Western Ohio Band Festival which was held May 8, at Sidney. Also, the nineteenth annual concert was presented Friday night, March 6. Following a short concert by the Junior Band and a few selections by the Girls' Glee Club, the Senior Band played the following numbers:

● ● CHORUS . . .

● Over 300 students were enrolled in the chorus this year, making it one of the most important activities at Central.

The chorus met every Friday morning during activities period. This year the group studied program songs from a collection by Noble Cain.

Chorus was open to the entire student body. No voice tests were required and everyone interested in singing was encouraged to join.

● ● ORCHESTRA . . .

● The orchestra played at the Commencement exercises, the Baccalaureate services, the junior class play, the senior class play, and the senior operetta.

Among the selections which they used this year were "Rose Marie," "Marche Fantastique," and "Tales from the Vienna Woods." Every Tuesday and Thursday the seventh period the orchestra met with Mr. Gates in the auditorium for practice.

GIRLS' CHOIR

● The Girls' Choir has had several successful appearances. At the annual Band Concert on March 6 they sang a vocal arrangement by Spross of Dvorak's "Humoresque" and "Waters of Minnetonka" by Laurence. Two more numbers, "Your Flag and My Flag" and "Shadows Across My Heart," with solos by Helen Dunn and Betty Luckey respectively, were used as encores. The final appearance of the Girls' Choir was at the Baccalaureate service where they sang several sacred selections.

The officers were: President, Betty Cromer; vice president, Wilma Henry; secretary, Mary Dawson; pianist, Orpah Clark.

—Wilma Henry.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

● This year the Boys' Glee Club was more active than in past years. Not only was the club organized earlier than usual, but practices were held at more frequent intervals.

Starting last September, at which time the club was divided into two classifications, tenors and basses, the boys met every Friday during the seventh period.

The Glee Club made its only public appearance at the Band Concert, when the boys sang "Sonny O'Mine," "The Spanish Vagabond," and "The Marine Hymn."

Forty boys made up the Glee Club, which was directed by Mr. Gates and accompanied by Orpah Clark at the piano.

—Bill Cromer.

● “The activity of the young is like that of rail cars in motion—they tear along with noise and turmoil, and leave peace behind them. The nooks lose quietude as they pass, and recover it only on their departure.”

● ● THE STAFF . . .

THANKSGIVING NUMBER

● With its attractive blue and black cover the first issue of the Piquonian appeared at Thanksgiving time. Although the central theme was "Scholarship," a number of poems, stories, and miscellaneous articles related to the season were published. At this time a new feature, the Exchange Page, made its debut. Janet Purdy, Betty Cromer, Frances Fritsch, and Carl Zimmerman deserve honorable mention for their interesting compositions taken from real life experiences. Following the custom of former years the Bookshelf, School Notes, and Editorial Comment were given places in the magazine.

CHRISTMAS NUMBER

● Providing an atmosphere appropriate to the season the second issue of the Piquonian, attired in red and silver, was distributed. In this publication Christmas customs in foreign lands were discussed while the original stories delighted the readers. An article causing much favorable comment was "Central's Christmas List," written by Margaret Gravett. Mr. Richardson, a new teacher at Central this year, found himself in the limelight when the story of his life was presented by the Interviewer. This was a successor to an article in the previous issue when Miss Dean was introduced to Piquonian subscribers.

FEBRUARY NUMBER

● The third issue of the Piquonian was designated as the "Travel Number." Several students interviewed their classmates and submitted for publication the results of their questioning. Among these articles were Mary Lou Cron's "The Where and Why of It" and Mary Upton's "If Only Three Books." The alumni editor chose to write her column as an interview with Dan Cupid. Music and art were given special attention with articles featuring the lives of celebrities in those fields. Under the heading "Hodgepodge" the humor department attained a new height of popularity with honors going to George Cathcart for his clever rhyme "Did You?"

MARCH NUMBER

● The last issue edited by the senior staff centered about the activities in the high school. Orpah Clark's "Wood Symphony" and Mary Patterson's "Prila Oolfa" were exceptionally interesting stories. A page devoted to clubs was called "Central Clubhouse." Central's poets were well represented with an unusual number of poems---Betty Kiser expressing her hidden desires in "I Wish." The pet peeves of some of the students were revealed in "Warning" by Gladys Kastner. In the Sports Review Tom Mote gave that much deserved publicity to the minor sports along with a complete list of the basketball games and scores.

● The juniors proved their capability of editing the school magazine when the May issue of the Piquonian was published. Although most of the material was written by underclassmen, several seniors contributed to the success of the publication. Edith Morrow's two articles "Talking It Over" and "The Blue Hole, Castalia, Ohio" were very interesting, while Katherine Poling gave her ideas of the qualities of the ideal high school boy and girl. A section was entirely devoted to the F. F. A., giving the purposes of the organization and interesting facts about it.

—Dorothy Schuesselin.

STUDENT COUNCIL ● ●

● The Student Council was organized this year for the purpose of promoting cooperation among the students. During the year it has undertaken several different kinds of work.

The Council arranged the football dance, and two band concerts, one of these being the Ohio State University Band concert held on March 24.

At the first of the year the Council decided to form a constitution which would be a guide to the members concerning their duties. It took some time to compile a constitution to suit the entire group, but at length one was written which seemed satisfactory. It contains articles pertaining to committees, officers, membership, special duties, honorary members, and meetings.

The organization this year consists of eight seniors, six juniors, four sophomores and four freshmen. These students were selected by their respective classes. The president of the senior class, the editor-in-chief of the Piquonian, and the business manager and the captain of the football team are automatically made members.

At the first meeting of the Council, Allan Van de Wege was elected president. However, Allan completed his school work in January, at which time Jim Rees was elected to replace him.

Thus, the officers of the 1936 school term were:

President.....	Jim Rees
Vice President.....	Ruby Oliver
Secretary.....	Jeanette Smith
Treasurer.....	Mary Upton
Faculty Advisor.....	Mr. Sims

Jeanette Smith.

Standing: Betty Luckey, Katherine Miller, Tom Collins, Alice Hunter, Jim Campbell, Orpah Clark, Amy Statler, Helen Boylan, Mary Ellen Miller, Jeanne Mickler, Jeanne Schwab, Jane Denman, Bill Roberts, Helen Hemm, Bruce Geiger, Louise Baugh, Clark Libby, Omer Patterson, Dick DeWeese.

Row 4: Mary Dawson, Fred White, Tom Mote, Dick Dunkle, Margaret Gravett

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY ● ●

● Last spring, five juniors were selected by the faculty committee to become members of the National Honor Society. Membership in this organization is based on character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Virginia Clark was elected president; Dorothy Schuesselin, vice president; and Dorothy Recker, secretary. These officers, as well as Helen Dunn and Betty Kiser, were initiated at the annual alumni honor society banquet last May; while Orpah Clark, Jeanette Hicks, and Lorma Soerhoff were inducted into the society in the fall.

Miss Upton is adviser of the Piqua chapter and is assisted by a committee composed of Miss Nixon, Miss Otte, Mr. Stevens, Mr. Moffett, and Mr. Sims.

The nucleus of next year's organization will be members of the junior class who were elected this spring: Dick Dunkle, Bruce Geiger, Evella Johnson, Helen Nichols, Dorrell Polhamus, and Mary Upton.

—Dorothy Recker.

● ● QUILL AND SCROLL

● Ten years ago, April 10, 1926, the first Quill and Scroll organization was founded by a group of high school supervisors at the University of Iowa, for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding high school pupils for their achievement in journalism.

To be eligible for a charter of Quill and Scroll a high school must publish a newspaper, an annual, and a school magazine. Any pupil in the junior or senior year at Central who is in the upper third of his class and who will endeavor to do some phase of work in journalism for the High School Page and for the school magazine, The Piquonian, is entitled to try for this honor society.

Piqua High School's Chapter was granted in 1929; and since that time there have been 61 members initiated into the Society.

DEBATE CLUB ● ●

● The Debate Club, under the capable supervision of Miss Dean, held its meetings every week. It was decided that there should be no decision debates and that the club should not enter the State Debate League; but the interest shown by the underclassmen promises to make next year's season a very interesting and successful one.

"Resolved: That the several states should enact legislation providing complete medical care to all citizens at public expense" was the topic of debate used throughout the state.

An affirmative team composed of Jeanne Mickler, Janet Purdy, Mae Stacy, Rudolph Trissell, and Bill Peters, and a Negative team composed of Hannah Kuppen, Margaret Gravett, Ernest Reeder, Bill Cromer, and Dorrell Polhamus held interesting debates with Dayton Oakwood. A regulation debate, with Troy, by the affirmative team, Janet Purdy and Bill Peters, finished the Club's season.

● ● SPANISH CLUB

● One of the very active clubs at Central this year was the Spanish club, under the direction of Mr. Richardson. The officers of this organization were: Jack Schwab, president; Dick DeWeese, vice president; and Amy Statler, secretary-treasurer.

At their meetings, members of the club gave reports concerning the different countries whose inhabitants speak the Spanish language, reports which discussed the customs and habits of the people. The club also read stories in Spanish and played Spanish games.

Many of the students belonging to this club have been corresponding with young people in Mexico, and they have received some very interesting letters.

Recently the club published a newspaper in Spanish which contained a description of the Band Concert and the Junior Class play; a column of jokes about the students; a comic section; and a column of advice to the lovelorn. The paper was edited by Evella Johnson and Nelle Page.

—Helen Nichols.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB ● ●

● Meeting with Mr. Gray every other week, the Senior Dramatic Club studied and produced various well-known plays, such as "Lyah," "The Closet," "The Valiant," and "The Maid of France." Also the Thanksgiving program was arranged and given before the student assembly by this Dramatic Club.

A replica of Major Bowes' amateur hour proved to be one of the more outstanding accomplishments of the year, with Clark Libbee as Major Bowes and Betty DeWeese, Helen Boylan, Emma Belle Whitenack, Helen Gillespie, and Jessica Elliot as amateurs.

Honorary officers of the Senior Dramatic Club are Jim Rees, president; Fred White, vice president; and Jeanette Smith, secretary.

● ● JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

● The Junior Dramatic Club under the supervision of Miss Reiland has met regularly during the past year to study the principles of acting and stage setting.

In September Miss Reiland turned the Club over to the officers who, with her assistance, planned many instructive as well as interesting programs.

The Club especially enjoyed the meetings devoted to studying the art of pantomime, since many amusing situations were dramatized.

The big production attempted by the Club members was the Christmas play entitled "The Christmas Guest." The Club also assisted Miss Reiland in the Junior class play, "Enter The Prodigal." Officers for this year included Mary Upton, president; Edith Morrow, vice president; Dorrell Polhamus, program chairman.

● ● HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

● At the first meeting of the Home Economics Club, which is under the supervision of Miss Crumrine, the home economics instructor, the following officers were elected:

President.....Pauline Coblentz
Vice President.....Edith Rees
Secretary-Treasurer.....Katherine Kiefer
Song and Cheer Leaders.....Lois Heckerman, Alice Woodell

The informal initiation of new members into the club was a very impressive candlelight service, closing with all the girls repeating the Club creed.

Topics which were of decided interest to all were discussed during the meetings of the Club. Some of these were:

Etiquette and Charm
American and Paris Fashions
Vocational Opportunities of Home Economics Students
Christmas Customs in Foreign Lands
Interior Home Decorations
Antiques
Home Life in Foreign Lands
American Home Life
American vs. Foreign Foods
First Aid Bandages (Miss Peters, school nurse, speaker)
Pictures and Slides of European Home Life
Budget and Thrift

Singing club songs was also an enjoyable diversion for the girls. The Home Economics Club song is entitled "The Sun Shines Bright."

● ● F. F. A.

Since its organization in 1931, the Piqua chapter of the Future Farmers of America has been one of the most active clubs of Central.

During the past five years, approximately 175 boys have affiliated themselves with this organization, which brings out the best of a person in leadership, trains in thrift, provides a small cash income from projects, promotes scholarship, and trains in cooperation.

Some of the activities for this year were: a corn husking contest, initiation of "green hands," a public speaking contest, the annual parent and son banquet, a pest hunt, and a Future Farmer Frolic.

For the past two years it has been the custom of the chapter to present honorary membership to men in the surrounding community who have assisted the chapter in its work. This year such membership was awarded to Mr. B. V. Stieneman, Mr. Ralph Morton, Mr. Lee Looney, and Mr. W. H. Teegarden. Other honorary members are: Mr. Clarence Penrod, Mr. Walter Anderson, and Supt. George C. Dietrich.

Officers for the past year were: Chester Johnston, president; Ernest Reeder, vice president; Richard Anderson, secretary; Raymond Silliman, treasurer; Lloyd DeWeese, reporter; and Richard Hill, watch dog.

HOBBY CLUB ● ●

● The Hobby Club held its meetings regularly every Wednesday morning of the second semester during activities period, under the supervision of Mr. Slaughter. The officers were: president, Richard Hubbell; vice president, John Riddle; and secretary, Harold Lange.

Hobbies that were discussed this semester were: stamp collecting, model airplane building, plaster of Paris casting, wood working, electrical work, match folder collecting, and aeronautical scrap-book making.

● ● CHEMISTRY CLUB

● For the first time in several years Central had a Chemistry Club. The first few meetings held were merely demonstrations given by the members.

The members finally decided to take up a scheme of analysis. For lack of apparatus quantitative analysis could not be done so qualitative analysis was carried on.

Qualitative analysis is the plan for finding what elements are present in an unknown material. Metals are divided into groups for this analysis. The Club studied the first two groups.

The Club had four members who worked by themselves in the Chemistry laboratory. Many interesting things were encountered and the members enjoyed working to the utmost.

ROAMIN' CLUB ● ●

● The Roamin' Club, under the supervision of Miss Nixon, was organized by a group of girls who were interested in exploring foreign countries. The officers elected were president, Wilma Thomas; vice president, Alice Ellerman, secretary-treasurer, Rosemary Ellerman.

Definite places of interest were selected, and the girls who were interested in travelling in those countries presented talks to the club. Guest speakers were also invited.

Volcanoes of Hawaii, the City of Honolulu, Westminster Abbey, London Tower and a general sight-seeing trip through England were some of the topics discussed by the members.

Special speakers to the club were Maurice Brookhart, who described his experiences while on a camping trip in Canada; and Miss Ella Farley, who talked about her trip through the western part of the United States.

Moving pictures shown by A. J. Kaiser, about the Y. M. C. A. trip to Yellowstone National Park, were also of special interest to the club.

—Rosemary Ellerman.

● ● SAFETY CLUB

● A new club was organized at Central this year to deal with the problem of driving an automobile safely. This Safety Club, under the direction of Mr. Miles, studied all types of automobiles, and the advantages and disadvantages of new improvements.

This club had the pleasure of hearing a member of the Ohio State Highway Patrol discuss the road rules of Ohio and the work of the State Patrol.

Officers of the Club this year were William Schmidlapp, president; Lon Cooper, vice president; and Bill Black, secretary.

● ● THE JUNIOR HIGH SYSTEM

● Before 1925, South Street, Spring Street, and North Streets schools were schools used for the first eight grades while all students in higher grades attended Piqua Central High. In the fall of that year, two junior high schools were dedicated in the city of Piqua. By adding Bennett and Wilder to the public school system of Piqua more students of junior high grades were accommodated under better circumstances.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

● The junior-senior reception was held June 3 at the Country Club. The prom was a success due to the cooperation of the junior committees and to the enthusiasm of the seniors.

Dick Dunkle, class president, and five committees made all necessary arrangements. The committees were as follows: entertainment—Roger Busler, chairman, Bill Peters, Louise Baugh; refreshments—Mary Upton, chairman, Mary Ellen Miller, Betty Marshall; transportation—Bill Black, chairman, Dick Hall, Scott Simpkinson; music—Bill Thayer, chairman, Betty Chronerberry, Alice Hunter; favors—Jean Decker, chairman, Edith Morrow, Martha Zimpher.

Music was furnished by Harold Greenameyer and his band.

A class will, prepared by the entertainment committee, in which the seniors bestowed upon the juniors their exalted position, was one of the main features of the program.

—Betty Cromer.

● ● PROPHECY

Flash! Miriam E. Oda, American heiress, kidnapped by Chinese bandits, has been released. Her husband, it is reported, paid $300,000 for her freedom.

Upon her arrival in June to attend the "Convention of Super-Sportsman," Carl Zimmerlin, editor of the "Fish-hook and Bullet," was presented with the key to the city by attractive Ruby Oliver, head of the City Commissioners.

Marvin Smith's new stream-lined basketball recently has been patented.

Louise Hardesty, world famous dermatologist, will be the guest artist of the Vanis Walker Beauty Clinic program next Thursday. Here's your chance, "Thirty, yet hopefuls."

The New York Zoo was presented with one of the finest specimens of Temminck Tragopans when Lillian Soyster returned from her Asiatic What-Have-We Trip.

Racheal Kiser recently arrived in Hollywood from Broadway. There she will compete with Betty Jones for the lead in "1950---So What?"

Dwight Hagelbarger, foremost Paris designer of men's clothes, has announced the probability of pastel-colored suits and overcoats. "Men have worn drab colors long enough," he says.

Speaking of colors, well dressed women of America are now following the Continental fashion of wearing colored hair to match their costumes. This style was demonstrated Monday night when Lucille Evilsizer appeared at the Opera with green hair.

With this colorful bit of news we bring to an end the annual edition of "heard through the transom" sponsored by Hemm and Hemm. This is your "transom correspondent," Lorma Soerhoff. I hope you have noticed the courtesy with which my aide, Murray Millhouse, has stood by me with a glass of water during this broadcast.

● ● REMINISCING

Dusk-time comes so suddenly
In my little town,
That I scarcely know 'tis here
Till darkness settles down.

Then from out my window pane,
Across the way I see,
In a star-backed silhouette
The church and tall oak tree.

Time has passed by quietly
Dark patterned with the gay,
And down the pathway of the years
I've come a weary way.

But still in misty memory
I live my school days o'er;
Many times in dreams I go
Through that familiar door;

And study as in times gone by
My lessons' rote and rule,
Looking forward to the day
I'll graduate from school.

The years have not been gentle masters,
Time has taken much;
But mem'ries of my high school days
Time shall never touch.

—Helen Snow.

● ● CLASS OF '36

Mr. Announcer, we'd like to make
A special announcement; it's for the sake
Of one hundred and twenty-seventh seniors,---so please
Step to your microphone, speaking with ease.

"Hello, folks on the air, we want you to know
That into the world we soon are to go,
Our school life is over, arrangements are made,
We've labored and striven, we've at last made the grade.

"Our toil and our labor have not been in vain
We're all of the best and the finest of grain.
There's not a class finer, no, sir, not one,
But still we all like to have our good fun.

"Our teachers have told us of tasks we must do
If ever the world we expect to get through.
They've helped us get ready, they want us to be
The best of alumni in all history.

"After twelve years of lessons, they think we should know
The best road to success though our progress be slow;
So, folks on the air, won't you help us along
With cheering encouragement when things go wrong?

"For though we are ready to do our best work,
We may have some trouble, but tasks we'll not shirk.
This is the message we found we must tell
And now that we've told it, we'll just say 'farewell'."

—Virginia Clark.

the pause that refreshes
with ice-cold Coca-Cola.
Along highways and byways it's always ready for you—ice-cold.
